Facing federal charge of use of interstate commerce facilities in the commission of a murder-for-hire

Second suspect in Sara Starr murder from 2017 turns himself in to authorities

by Linda Hodge, Editor

Less than 48 hours after Coffee County Sheriff Dave Sutton held a press conference announcing a federal arrest warrant had been issued for Darin Christopher Starr pertaining to his alleged role in the November 2017 murder of Sara Starr, he reportedly turned himself in to authorities in Texas.

"I am proud to stand here to say today that we have released all information, and there are no other people we are looking at in this case," Sutton said Thursday morning, Feb. 3, from the Coffee County Sheriff's Office.

He had just announced that Darin Starr, age 53, was wanted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) for his believed role in the alleged murder of his former sister-in-law. In early December, Jason Starr, the victim's former husband, was arrested by officials on federal warrants for the same crime.

Sutton said a federal arrest warrant had been issued by the U.S. Court for the Middle District of Alabama on Darin Starr for the charge of use of interstate commerce facilities in the commission of a murder-for-hire. This is the same charge his brother, Jason, was arrested on in December.

Jason Starr was later released from custody, wearing an ankle monitoring device, and he is awaiting trial on the charge.

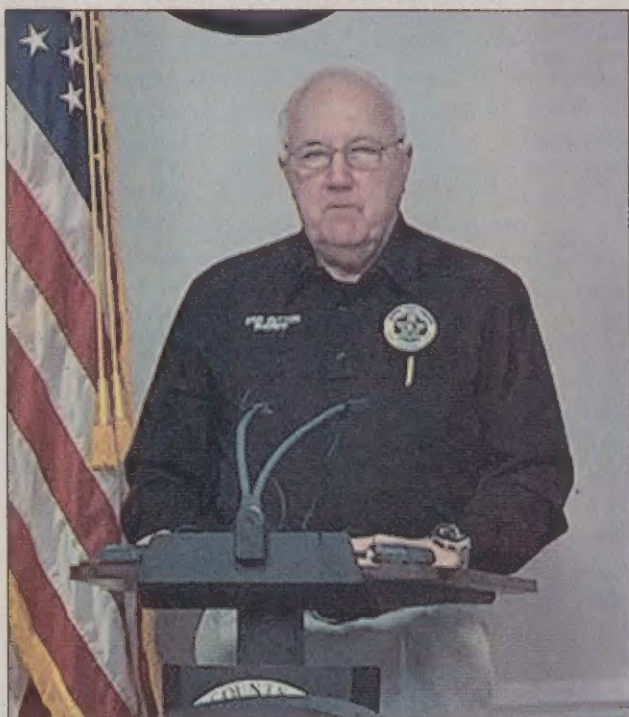

During last Thursday's press conference, Sheriff Sutton said Darin Starr had strong connections to Lakehills, Texas (Bandera County), as well as, to San Antonio, Texas, and Glendale, Arizona. A 'Wanted by the FBI' poster released by authorities also noted he was believed to have ties to Colebrook, Connecticut too.

Saturday morning, Feb. 5, Coffee County authorities were notified that Darin Starr had turned himself in to law enforcement in Hondo, Texas at 1:30 a.m. that morning.

"If you see a little smile on my face that is because a lot of work has paid off, and we are getting close to bringing these two individuals [Jason Starr and Darin Starr] to justice for the alleged murder of Sara Starr," Sutton said. "I am looking forward to the day we can come into the courtroom and bring these two to justice."

Sutton said any information that could help authorities lead to the convictions of the Starr brothers in the alleged murder of Sara Starr still would be greatly appreciated.

Coffee County Sheriff Dave Sutton addressed media Thursday morning, Feb. 3, announcing a search for Darin Starr regarding his alleged role in the 2017 of Sara Starr in Coffee County, Ala. The sheriff said Starr was wanted by the FBI on federal charges related to the murder. Less than 48 hours later, Starr turned himself in to authorities in Hondo, Texas.

During Coffee County Board of Education meeting

Two Kinston teachers recognized as "Teacher of the Year" winners

by Linda Hodge, Editor

Two teachers, both from Kinston Schools, received special recognition Thursday evening, Feb. 3, at the Coffee County School Board meeting, for being named the system's "Teacher of the Year" for the elementary and secondary level.

Superintendent Kelly Cobb said Chasity Littleton, a second grade teacher at Kinston, had been named the district-wide Elementary Teacher of the Year for Coffee County Schools while Kelly Flowers, a math teacher Kinston, has been named the Secondary Teacher of the Year for Coffee County Schools. She said the two first were selected by their colleagues to be the respective winners for the school, and they now were chosen by a committee as the district-wide winners

Kinston second grade teacher Chasity Littleton, center, was recognized last Thursday evening, Feb. 3, at the Coffee County Board of Education meeting for being named the Elementary Teacher of the Year for Coffee County Schools. Also, recognized at the meeting [but unable to attend] was Secondary Teacher of the Year Kelly Flowers. Kinston vice principal Crystal Hawthorne, left, and principal Megan Driggers, right, also attended the board meeting in support of their teachers.

for Coffee County Schools. Cobb said each now advances to the regional level where a state committee will review applications for the 'teachers of the year' at that level.

In being recognized as a teacher of the year at the county-wide level, Littleton and Flowers each received $500 in instructional classroom supply monies, an award plaque, a gift certificate from Balfour to purchase a "teacher of the year" ring, a gift basket from LillieAnne's in Elba, and customized teacher cookies to share with their students.

Board member Sherry Eddins said it was "very impressive" for Kinston to claim the "Teacher of the Year" honors for both the elementary and secondary teachers this year.

Last Thursday evening's board meeting also featured board members receiving special accolades for their dedication to Coffee County Schools.

"Coffee County Schools is joining all public schools in recognizing School Board Member Recognition Month," Cobb said.

She presented each board member with a certificate of appreciation and a customized Yeti cup [with the school system's logo on it]

Three killed; driver injured in Feb. 2nd single-vehicle accident on Hwy 167

A single-vehicle wreck Wednesday morning, Feb. 2, in Coffee County, Ala., claimed the lives of three passengers in the vehicle.

The wreck occurred at approximately 5:39 a.m. that morning on Alabama Highway 167 near the 40-mile marker, about 14 miles north of the Enterprise city limits [near the Victoria community].

Alabama State Troopers said a 2001 Honda Odyssey, driven by Rene Tiul Cuc, age 35, of Enterprise, left the roadway and struck a tree. Three passengers, Azucena Castaneda, age 47, a 19-year-old, and another passenger whose age was not available, all of Enterprise, were fatally injured and pronounced dead at the scene of the accident. The driver, Cuc, was transported to an area hospital for medical attention.

No further details have been released by Troopers.

Jacob Brunson wins PowerSouth Youth Tour for Elba High School

Last week, Elba High School junior Jacob Brunson was named the 2022 PowerSouth Youth Tour Contest winner for Elba.

This award qualifies Brunson to participate in the PowerSouth Youth Tour trip this June in Washington, D.C. He also will participate in a Montgomery Youth Tour in March.

The expense-paid trip to Washington, D.C. will be June 19-24.

To win the award, Brunson submitted a 750-word [or more] essay on "Our Energy Future" that included information about the future of electricity generation technologies and consumer usage habits.

A group of more than 1,500 high school stu-

"We are very proud of Jacob," said Elba High principal Wynn Grimes. "The trip to Washington in June will be a great learning experience for him, and I know he will represent his school and community well."

At EHS, Brunson participates in Show Choir, Skills USA, Band, and HOSA. He plays a lead in the school play, and he is certified in CPR and First Aid. He also volunteers at his church and with after-school projects.

"There are many little ways to enlarge your child's world. Love of books is the best of all." —Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis.

It was announced last week that the U.S. national debt has topped $30 trillion as government borrowing surged amid the ongoing pandemic. With interest rates projected to increase real soon, there are predictions that the U. S. national debt will grow even faster! The increased national debt is actually 'hidden taxes' (if you will think about it) because it adds to inflation, lessening of the value of the U. S. dollar, etc. It is a tax that hits everyone, but like so many things it impacts the poor the most.

A book we just read can't be described as enjoyable, but it was an eye opener. The book "Dreams of Africa in Alabama" is a historic story about the last known slave ship coming to America (illegally). The slaves were shipped into the country in the Mobile area. It was the Clotilda. The burned remains of that ship were found recently near Mobile. It was reportedly burned to destroy any evidence that slaves had been imported on the vessel. This book was written prior to the discovery of the sunken charred hull of the ship right where it had unloaded it's human cargo. Author S. A. Diouf traced the individuals from their capture in Africa, through several years of slavery in South Alabama, freedom, their life-long unfulfilled dreams of returning to their homeland, the trials of their lives and families, establishing African Town (or Africatown as it is now known) in Mobile County, to their graves, as they died throughout the years. Some died of diseases, others were murdered, while a number of them lived a full life. Printed by Oxford University Press, author Sylviane A. Diouf did the tedious research to present an authentic story of this segment of American history. Anyone wanting to check his facts is furnished with about 75 pages of references and over 30 bibliography pages!

See your bookie if you are one of the 31.5 million American citizens expected to be betting on the outcome of the upcoming pro football Super Bowl! Of course, our advice on how to sure-fire double your money is to neatly fold it and put it in your pocket!!

While most of us are still wringing our hands over COVID, another bugger-bear has reared its head in the Netherlands. A vicious variant of HIV has recently been identified by their medical folks. It reportedly is easier to contract, more vicious, and more likely to turn into AIDS much faster. Granted, you don't catch AIDS walking down the street, but even then, someone you know and/or love is a potential victim.

Be safe, wear your mask, social distance, wash your hands AND get the shot(s) and/or booster!

County health departments do not have free face masks to distribute

County health departments in Alabama do not have free face masks to distribute to the public.

According to information provided to the news media by the federal government, retail pharmacies that are part of the federal COVID-19 vaccine program and community health centers nationwide will be sent masks.

On January 18, the Biden Administration announced that the HHS Office of the Assistant Secretary for Preparedness and Response (ASPR) will make more than 400 million NIOSH-approved N95 masks from the Strategic National Stockpile (SNS) available to the American people for free.

When more information is known, the Alabama Department of Public Health will post announcements at <https://www.alabamapublichealth.gov/index.html> and through the news media.

Cuzin Lou Lou's
Tales from Yonder

Editor's Note: Cuzin Lou Lou's tales are to be enjoyed as a light-hearted form of Southern expression Little Bean celebrated her 2nd birthday on Sunday!

Cuzin Lou Lou and the Yonder gang made sure to throw all their attention to the little spoiled monster and treated her to a birthday cupcake and cheese puffs! Some folks will cringe at the idea of that, but Little Bean loves to be treated like a real human [she has no idea she is a dog, so, please do not tell her]. As long as the little one's system allows her to enjoy the occasional treats like she received last Sunday, well, she's gonna get 'em!

Upon opening her birthday gifts Bean's little tail was wagging 90-to-nothing, and she has been enjoying playtime with her new toys all week.

It is funny how these little creatures become so important in our lives. Before getting little Bean in 2020, Lou Lou had sworn off pets for years. Now, she could not imagine her life without Bean.

And, you better believe, the little monster has

Sister and Papa wrapped as tightly as she possibly can too! For example... Sister purchase "birthday glasses" for the Yonder gang to wear while they celebrated Bean's birthday, and Papa put his pair on with no objection!

His face in the photo Lou Lou captured of Papa wearing the glasses suggests he was not happy about it, but do not be fooled. He would do just about anything for Bean!!

Lou Lou and Sister even discussed later in the day that they could not recall Papa ever wearing anything like that for one of their birthdays when they were younger! Hmmm...

Anyways, things around the Yonder house this week have pretty much revolved around trying to bring Bean back down off that cloud [or maybe sugar high] she got on Sunday when all attention was on her and her 2nd birthday! Maybe they'll get there before birthday number three.

Until next time...God Bless and Keep Smiling!

Mend a Broken Heart Month

February can be a trying time for those who have experienced a loss. And while for most, February has other more symbolic meanings, it is also Mend a Broken Heart Month. In the spirit of mending broken hearts, here are a few ways to cope with the grief of a lost loved one.

For those who have experienced a recent loss, the prospect of going out and dating again can seem scary and even disrespectful to their lost partner. There are plenty of dating groups both community and online that specialize in helping widows and widowers find love again after a loss. These groups often provide both emotional support and physical activities to encourage those who are bereaved to mingle and grow together past their grief.

If your grief is still too recent, there are projects that can help ease the pain of loss. If your lost beloved had a favorite shirt or sweater that you don't mind parting with: try adding some pillow filler to the garment and sew up the sleeves and the neck. The completed pillow can now provide some comfort, as if your lost loved has never truly left.

If there was a cause you and your lost loved one supported together: try donating your time or energy to the same cause to honor their legacy. If there was not a cause you and your loved one shared, there are plenty of other causes that are doing great work during the month of February. In addition to Mend a Broken Heart Month, February is also Women's Heart Health Month. Those causes can be supported by donating blankets to those in need, winter coats to the homeless or donating time to visit the lonely in hospice care centers or local nursing homes and hospitals.

This February, take some time to try and mend a broken heart: be it yours or someone else's. Know you are not alone and things will improve.

Rejoicing In His Strength

On Wednesday of last week, my plan was to read Psalms 21-30. But, I didn't get that far. Actually, I didn't get past the first half of the first verse of the first chapter (21). It was one of those "yes, me too" moments as I read "How the king rejoices in your strength, O Lord!"

I too am rejoicing in his strength, because mine is so limited. I am rejoicing in his strength because his is there for me. We should all rejoice in his strength because, as he told Paul, "My power works best in weakness." His strength compensates. His strength completed the task.

Paul was transparent with the Corinthian church when he honestly shared "We think you ought to know, dear brothers and sisters, about the trouble we went through in the province of Asia. We were crushed and overwhelmed beyond our ability to endure, and we thought we would never live through it. In fact, we expected to die." Then, like David, Paul rejoiced in God's strength, and added "But as a result, we stopped relying on ourselves, and learned to rely on God, who raises the dead. And he did rescue us from mortal danger, and he will rescue us again. We have placed our confidence in him, and he will continue to rescue us." (2 Corinthians 1:8-10) Paul realized that it wasn't about what he could do, but what God could do!

If life is demanding more from you than what you have or can do, it's okay. Life isn't a game, but like playing tug of war, our pulling and straining doesn't matter as much as the who is behind us, our "anchor." If God is the anchor of our life, we win. His strength is more than enough, and we should rejoice in his strength!

will not be available during the transition period, ALEA Examiners will continue to administer Class D and CDL Road Skills Tests. County offices will remain open but strictly for revenue and probate services.

Director of ALEA's Department of Public Safety Colonel Jimmy Helms said, "ALEA's Driver License Division has worked diligently at the direction of Chief Jonathan Archer to meticulously improve technology and processes at every level within the new system. LEADS will streamline and speed up the process, benefiting both customers and personnel. We want everyone to recognize that when LEADS makes its debut in spring of 2022, it will not only bring about changes to the division, but all county offices that issue driver licenses will be affected as well."

ALEA Driver License Division's Chief Archer agreed with Colonel Helms and said, "The Agency and my team are absolutely devoted to ensuring all of our local and state partners are fully informed on the new system, as well as on the significant impacts the office closures will have on citizens statewide during the modernization and transition process. Beyond upgrading the capabilities of our infrastructure with state-of-the-art technology, LEADS allows us to more efficiently serve and interact with our customers. We have partnered with Fast Enterprises and have been preparing to successfully complete this launch for a number of years; however, we have established April 26 as the planned reopening date of all offices once we have successfully completed the transition."

Once LEADS goes live, citizens will have access to a variety of new options and such enhanced services as allowing individuals to pre-apply for the Alabama Driver License and enter all necessary information prior to visiting a local office, reducing wait times exponentially. Once LEADS goes live, ALEA will offer expanded online services to include but not limited to:

- Ability to update their addresses
- Ability to pay and reinstate their licenses
- Ability to upload U.S. Department of Transportation (USDOT) Medical Cards
- Ability to view Transportation Security Administration's (TSA) Hazmat background checks
- Ability to update duplicate licenses to eligible foreign nationals
- Ability to pre-apply for individuals who are requesting an Alabama License for the first time

Black History Month: The Life and Legacy of the Late Lewis Latimer continues:

Overtime, Latimer became a draftsman at Alexander Graham Bell's patent law firm, and in 1876, Bell employed him to draft the drawings so that the telephone could receive a patent.

Latimer is best known for his invention of a carbon filament used in light bulbs. Although now we use tungsten, at the time Latimer's carbon filaments lasted longer than the paper ones used by Thomas Edison. Along with these inventions, Latimer received the patents for a cooling and disinfecting apparatus, a locking rack for hats, coats, umbrellas, and book supports. Latimer was also hired to oversee the installation of electrical street lighting in Montreal, London, New York City, and Philadelphia.

The creative and prolific inventor lived his final years in Flushing, New York, where he taught classes and offered services for soliciting patents. He published a book of poetry before his death in 1928. Latimer was part of the group known as the Edison Pioneers, who said about him: "Broadmindedness, versatility in the accomplishment of things intellectual and cultural, a linguist, a devoted husband and father, all were characteristic of him, and his genial presence will be missed from our gatherings."

Zion Chapel Bass Team members fish Lake Martin in cold temps on Saturday, Jan. 29th

It was beyond what South Alabamians consider cold weather Saturday, Jan. 29, when the Zion Chapel Bass Team members fished their recent tournament on Lake Martin. The anglers launched their boats in 22-degree weather with the wind chill at 12 degrees.

Lake Martin is an old lake on the Tallapoosa River that has changed in the last few years. Many of the old fishing cabins and docks with brush piles have been demolished and replaced with mansions and skidoos and wake boats, but even with these changes, fishing is still good.

At this tournament, the Zion Chapel Bass Team welcomed a new member, Clayton Phillips. Only two ZCBT teams fished this tournament, which was their second tournament on the Alabama BASS Nation High School Tiger Trail; there is also an Alabama BASS Nation High School Tide Trail for north Alabama. A total of 157 teams participated in this tournament.

It was a tough, blustery day for the anglers, and it was obvious in the weight of their five-fish limit. Regardless of the adverse conditions, both teams managed to catch their limit. Although they may not have the most in weight, they receive points for catching their limit.

Team Jackson Dowdy/Clayton Phillips caught a limit weighing in at 5.7 pounds.

Team Avery Padgett/Ethan Young caught a limit weighing in at 5.42 pounds.

At the end of the day, Team Padgett/Young were the contingency winners from Freedom Marine Center, Guntersville, Ala., for the second time this season. They received $1,000.

As always, the team is thankful for sponsors, families, community, and especially their captains. Taylor Renfro and Chuck Branum braved the freezing weather and accompanied these anglers for the coldest tournament yet this season.

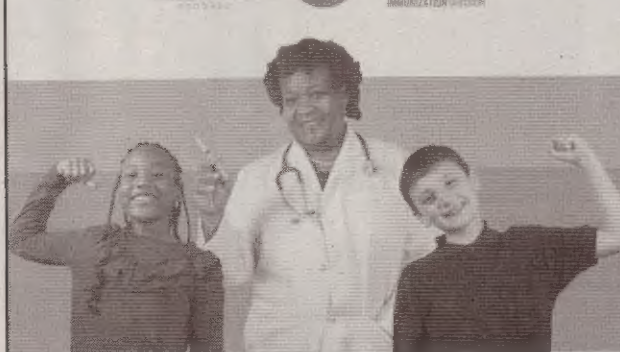

The Zion Chapel Bass Team will return to Lake Martin February 27 and fish their second tournament on the East Alabama High School Bass Trail.

At this tournament, Team Padgett/Young will receive its trophies and scholarship awards for winning the first tournament on this trail at Lake Jordan. Due to the stormy weather, no awards ceremony followed the day of that tournament.

Our grandson Lawson joined us over the weekend as we celebrated our youngest daughter's birthday at a local hibachi restaurant, and while he did eat all his steak and a little rice, he thoroughly enjoyed the flames from the grill and watching the chef cook the meal in front of him. We usually visit the restaurant once a year for a special occasion, and it is fun to watch his facial expressions each and every year.

For what it is worth....

 The regular season drew to a close last week in high school basketball and looking back it really wasn't that bad a year for the Elba teams. The Tigers posted their best record in a number of years, and while their win total fell short of their goals, they did begin the road back to being a solid high school team under new head coach Kelsey Prestwood. The Lady Tigers continued to be one of the top teams in the area as they posted another winning record despite having only one returning starter in the lineup for head coach Shaun Hammonds. I don't think Elba fans need to start checking hotels in Birmingham anytime soon to follow our teams to the 'Final Four,' but I do think winning basketball is back at Elba High.

 It was an enjoyable season for the fans in the area as every school gave them plenty to cheer about. Up at Zion Chapel, the Rebels celebrated the opening of their new gym with one of their best teams in years, while the Lady Rebels picked up a couple of wins and proved the program is on solid ground. Down at Kinston, the Bulldogs overcame a slow start to reach double digits in wins and improved every time they took the court, while the Lady Bulldogs had one of the area's top scorers and overcame a lack of experience at other spots to hang up some wins on their side of the ledger. Over at New Brockton, the Gamecocks opened the season fast and closed with a flurry to post a solid season, and while the Lady Gamecocks did struggle to find wins, they did begin the road back to respectability. Up at Brantley, the Bulldogs exceeded even the biggest fans hopes as they battled all season in an effort to claim an area title, while the Lady Bulldogs may not have had the season they had hoped for, but were still a talented team that played hard every time it took the court. Yep, it was a fun season.

 The mess up at Auburn concerning the future of its head football coach may be solved by the time you read this, and while I believe it is hard to judge a coach by one season's work, I also believe it was his arrogance and the belief he was always right that helped get him in hot water. Harsin preached from day one that he was the man for the job and everyone needed to get on board and support him as the head coach. While he may be right, respect is earned, not just given, and he did little to earn the respect of any member of the Auburn family. The fact twenty players and five coaches left the program certainly made many wonder what was going on up on the plains, and like I have always heard that since you can't fire the team, you fire the coach. If he does survive he will be the ultimate lame duck in all of college football, because the folks at Auburn will do what they feel is best, no matter what anyone may say.

 In closing.... When I get a chance I love to pop some biscuits in the oven for a quick and warm breakfast, but over the weekend my routine got changed when neither the grocery store in Elba nor Walmart's had any canned biscuits in the coolers. I know the excuse they use for the fact cars are so expensive is that the computer chips from overseas can't make it into the country due to a break in the supply chain, but I don't believe my canned biscuits come from overseas or that there is some conspiracy to keep this ole country boy from enjoying breakfast. Until there are biscuits back in the cooler you can best believe I will always pick up some toilet paper when I visit the store, just to be safe.

Cardwell scored 10 points in the third quarter in an attempt to keep Kinston close, but Elba's Whitfield and Williams combined for 15 points in the stanza as the Lady Tigers took complete command and opened up a 51-25 lead. Elba stretched its lead to thirty points midway through the fourth quarter and coasted in with the big win.

Elba Tigers slam Samson 68-41

The Elba Tigers pulled ahead early and never looked back last Monday night to post an exciting 68-41 win over the Samson Tigers.

Elba's Byron Burks and Chayse Peterson combined to score 10 points in the opening quarter to get the Tigers off to a fast start, but Samson showed it had come to play and used a trio of three-pointers by Coe Kelley to hang close as Elba carried a slim 14-12 lead into the second quarter.

Cody Gray nailed two-three pointers in the second quarter to help the Tigers stretch their lead to 27-21 at intermission, and the Tigers came out on fire in the third quarter as Zay Daniels and Peterson both scored 7 points in a 27-point stanza as Elba moved on top 54-33. Jordan Marek scored 5 points in the final stanza as the Tigers coasted in with lopsided 68-41 home win.
